(probably written around 2000)

multiple-part round

(one suggestion for entrances is marked, but any entrance spacing works!):

The musical score is written on a single treble clef staff in 12/8 time. It consists of four lines of music. The first line starts with a 12/8 time signature and includes four numbered entrances: 1, 2, 3, and 4 etc. The lyrics are: "Life with- out mis-takes would be so bor - ing." The second line continues the lyrics: "No mis - takes means stay - ing close to what you know. Each mis -". The third line continues: "take you make can take you on a jour - ney ____". The fourth line concludes with: "some new way you nev - er thought to go!". The score ends with a double bar line and repeat dots.

This (31-part?) round was deliberately written in a way that encourages singers to make mistakes. If the shifting rhythms of the first seven measures don't throw you off, the dropped beat of the eighth measure should!
