CONVERSATION STARTER ON
DATA SCIENCE

All UMass Lowell students, faculty, and staff are invited to the Conversation Starter hosted by the Kennedy College of Sciences. The theme of the event is Data Science. Data Science is all about the scientific questions that we can answer with given data, ranging from the findings of hidden patterns in the data; describing massive data that are structured, semi-structured, or unstructured; improving business performance via fact-based decision making; the science of getting computers to act without being explicitly programmed, and many more. Topics such as these will be the subject of a series of 8 minute talks followed by general discussion.
